The POPS Reading programme is divided into eight modules, designed to improve comprehension skills. Each module consists of four books with printable resources from the accompanying downloads. The Red Series contains the first four modules, with the Blue series containing the remaining four modules.

The Red Series

The books in this series have simple storylines with large clear print laid out in a predictable format. The illustrations provide excellent support to the text. Some direct speech is also used to model good spoken language.

The Blue Series Books

This series reuses over 80% of the vocabulary encountered in the Red Series to consolidate and to revise. The books in this series extend the format of the Red Series with more variation in sentence structure, and more events in each story. More direct speech is used in this series to model good spoken language.

POPS Phonics

POPS Phonics is designed to help children learn blending and decoding skills. Often blending sounds to form words is more challenging for differently abled children. The POPS approach to this challenge is to break the blending process into small easy steps. The resources in the POPS download teach consonant-vowel-consonant (CVC) words using a synthetic phonic approach.
